GALA BENEFIT CONCERT

Sunday, October 18, 2009 from 6:00 to 7:30 PM

Bechstein Piano Centre

207 West 58th Street, near 7th Avenue, New York City

This gala concert, a major event of our 2009-10 season, will feature works our audiences have particularly enjoyed during the past three years, performed by distinguished musicians:

John de Clef Piñeiro Breaths for flute and piano

Jacob E. Goodman Oui, J'Aime Brahms for cello and piano

Don Hagar Clouds for piano

Carl Kanter Three Short Pieces for Piano

Patricia Leonard Diabolique for electric violin and piano

Eugene McBride Baguettelle à la Chopin and Nocturne for piano

Richard McCandless Childhood for speaking percussionist

Nataliya Medvedovskaya Pantomimes for clarinet and piano

A silent auction, with contributions from several of our honorary members and others, will be a feature of the evening. The auction can be accessed at www.NYComposersCircle.org. Winners will be announced during the concert.

A reception will follow.

Each audience member will be asked to contribute at least $50. Seats are in limited supply (our 2006 Gala was sold out). For reservations, please call Eugene Marlow, Gala Producer, at (718) 858-3384, or write to NYComposers@aol.com, indicating how many seats you would like to reserve. If you cannot attend the Gala but would like to support the NYCC, please send a check, made out to the New York Composers Circle, to Eugene Marlow, 235 Adams Street, 7A, Brooklyn, NY 11201.
